What is Waveform?

Waveform is a unique way of exploring energy.

Insightful, pragmatic, thought-provoking, intellectually stimulating and thoroughly enjoyable, Waveform training enhances our understanding and ability to make use of those areas of existence that we know are there but can't prove, analyse or easily explain.

Waveform doesn't preach or proselytise; it treats you like an intelligent adult with a mind of your own. It doesn't show you a path to enlightenment; it shows you how to read the map.

How Is Waveform Taught?

To describe how Waveform is taught is like trying to describe what it's like to eat an oyster: you can never really know until you've tried it! But in a nutshell, there are elements of exploring the human energy field, the 'matrix,' healing techniques, remote viewing, telepathy, music and science – all achieved through a combination of unique exercises, guided discussion and personal tips from the group members' experience.

This mélange of techniques and often boisterous, free spirited and occasionally chaotic group activity is held together by the strong binding forces of love, mutual respect, the fascination of exploring new realms together – and lots of laughter.

Who Teaches Waveform?

The Waveform tutors have a wealth of esoteric and real-world experience combined with excellent teaching skills, humility and a great sense of fun. Their backgrounds include: a physicist, two engineers and a bacteriologist; assorted therapists, two professional musicians, British fencing and Tai Chi champions, two third Dan black belts and a former Marine.

Most of them are safe to be allowed out in public, though there are question marks over one or two of them, particularly a manic engineer from a part of the country noted for inbreeding and growing celery, whose Tiggerish enthusiasm for everything extends to an obsession for beetroot.

Is Waveform For You?

And are you for Waveform?! It's the sort of place where you have to leave your ego outside the door when you enter the room. There are no spiritual uniforms, no dogma, no self proclaimed gurus, no 'masters' of this, that and the other. Everyone, whatever their age, sex, origins and beliefs, is made to feel welcome and a valued member of the group.

There isn't a specific 'Waveform type' but the training does seem to attract a high proportion of people who are open minded, inquisitive, already spiritually quite evolved, experienced in some sort of healing and/or psychic work, and who want to explore further. It also attracts a number of professional people – and there is even an informal 'Jeddi' group of martial arts experts who use Waveform to enhance their skills, such as sensing when an opponent is about to strike before he has started to move.

The Ambience

The icing on the cake is that Waveform courses are taught in comfortable, practical venues, often surrounded by stunning scenery. The food supply is copious and delicious (the diets of vegans/vegetarians are respected and catered for but lovers of meat and drink will find they're in for a treat), there's a real feeling of being among like-minded friends – and Saturday night is party night!
